OBITUARY

De Jon Louis Sloan was born Feb. 29th, 1832, in Green Camp Township to Ralph Sloan and Velda Everett Sloan. De Jon was dedicated to God in Holy Baptism at the Agassiz M. E. Church on Easter Sunday of 1833. He was a member of the Emmanuel Reformed Sunday School. De Jon became ill on Thursday August 21st, with a tropical infection in the throat. The poison caused complications which resulted in her death on Wednesday morning at 2:40. She was 6 years, 5 months and 22 days old.

She was an only child and loved as only children are. She made her many friends with her happy smile, her joyful greetings, and winning personality. Her prattling tongue and pattering feet will be greatly missed by all who knew her. The empty crib, the half-worn shoes she used to wear, the toys with which she played, the soft locks of her curly hair, that was gleaming with the golden light of her early hair, that was gleaming with the golden light of her early hair, that was gleaming with the golden light of her early hair.

The Heavenly Father knowing De Jon's needs better than we, saw that it was time to put out the earthly light. A greater light, we cannot doubt, now shines about her, for her little body no longer needs such light as we know. So God has extinguished it in His own good time and way to be placed among the heavenly lights.

She will be mourned by her mother and daddy, her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Everett and Mr. and Mrs. William Sloan, and a great-grandmother, Mrs. Mary Jane Everett, and many other relatives and friends.

Dear little hands, I miss them all through the day, wherever I go—All through the night, how lonely it seems.
For no little hands wake me out of my dreams.
I miss them all through the weary hours, I miss them as others miss sunshine and flowers, Daytime or nighttime, wherever I go.
Dear little hands, I miss them all.

14 FIGHT DEATH AT SEA AFTER REVOLT

Five Days Minus Food or Water.

By The Associated Press
MAYAGUAY, Cuba, Aug. 25.—The leader of 14 sea-buffeted fugitives from Great Inagua Island related today how they escaped the terror of a native uprising only to run the risk of death by hunger and thirst on the open sea.

Frontally, the group was suspected by local Cuban police of being revolutionaries themselves because of the arms they brought to land with them in a disabled motor launch.

The 14 were ordered to trial today at Santiago on charges of unlawful possession of war materials. All were said to be United States citizens, although their leader, Dr. Dudley Arthur, was described as an official of the British Bahamas government. They reached Cuba yesterday after five terrifying days at sea without food or water.

The rudder of the boat had been lost and the motor was out of order. Sails were ripped from the refugees' clothing. So precipitate was their flight they had no chance to take food and water aboard.

The half-naked fugitives piloted their makeshift boat into Canaima inlet and were fed and clothed by natives near Mayagüez, a coastal town of eastern Cuba. The Cuban coast is about 50 miles from Great Inagua, one of the Bahamas Isles.

Dr. Arthur said they had fled the island after he ordered the arrest of a native accused of mistreating a child. The physician said he was superintendent of the island under the Bahamas government.

Natives blamed Joseph and Douglas Erickson, also among the fugitives, for the arrest order. Dr. Arthur said, and went to their home to kill them.

They did kill an Erickson employee, he related, and then started rioting over the island to wipe out all "Yankees." West Indian Co. officials and employees took refuge in a company warehouse, among them the group led by Dr. Arthur.

They set fire to the warehouse and the 14 fled in the only available boat.

REFUGEE FROM CHINA TELLS OF WAR HAVOC

New York Socialite Says Peiping Just Took Party Compared With Shanghai.

By The Associated Press
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—Mrs. James B. Murphy, socially prominent New York woman who is the first refugee to return to the United States from China, flew from San Francisco to New York today.

Mrs. Murphy, wife of the director of the cancer department of the Rockefeller Institute, arrived yesterday on the Pan-American Hiawatha Clipper plane.

"I was in Peiping when the Japanese took over the city," she said. "I thought what I saw there was something, but I didn't find out until later that Peiping was really a tea party."

"I succeeded in getting on a train bound for Shanghai. When I reached the international settlement all hell had broken loose. The entire sky was in flames, guns were roaring everywhere. It seemed that the end of the world had really come."

Fleeing from Shanghai, she encountered her most terrifying experiences traveling down the Whangpoo river to the German steamer Kulmerland.

"A deep pool of smoke hung over everything, rendering the river dark in spite of the fact the sun was shining," she said. "The waters were ebbed intermittently by red darts where artillery or bomb explosions were reflected."

"Ahead of us machine gun bullets splattered the water and the retreating mingled with the boom of heavy guns."

"We passed a Japanese gunboat and 18 destroyers, all firing continuously into the air and at the shore. Over our heads constantly whined the big shells of the Japanese and Chinese guns, and how we passed them all safely I still can't imagine."

"There was one last unpleasant moment for me. As I was climbing up the Jacob's ladder over the side of the steamer I was almost torn from the ship's side by a terrific blast which heeled the ship away over. A Japanese bomb or shell had made a direct hit on the Asiatic Petroleum Co. warehouse only 200 yards away."

Legless Swimmer Wants To Swim Sea in Ship Pool

By The Associated Press

HUDSON, N. Y., Aug. 25.—Charles Zimny, 46-year-old legless swimmer attempting to swim non-stop from Albany to New York, lollied in the water just north of here today and said he also like to swim the Atlantic—in a ship's swimming pool.

Resting in a cave until the tide brings more favorable conditions for continuing the 35-mile jaunt, Zimny said he'd tried the oceanic swim but failed because the ship's pool was drained each night.

The legless New Yorker, father of two children, said his first attempt to swim the Atlantic was made aboard the Queen Mary, on the trip home from a world exhibition swimming tour.

"I didn't find out until after I had boarded the ship that the water was drained from the pool each night," he added. "But, if there's a ship that doesn't drain its pool I'll try it again."

Since entering the water in Albany Monday night he has gone about 40 miles, and that at a rate of only one mile or so an hour. At one time yesterday he lost three miles to the river when the tide swept him back toward Albany.

Accompanied by a motor launch from which he is fed all his meals, Zimny said he expected to be in New York by Saturday. When he tries he simply turns over on his back and goes to sleep.

"The loss of my legs makes me unusually buoyant in the water," he said. "I can float for days."

CAMERAMEN PHOTO WAR AMID SHOT AND SHELL

Don Bullet Proof Vests To Crawl Into Skirmish Lines of Contenting Armies Around Shanghai.

By JAMES A. MILLER
Associated Press Writer
SHANGHAI, Aug. 25.—A steel-helmeted Associated Press "foreign legion" is fighting the Shanghai war with speed cameras and flash bulbs instead of guns and grenades. Day and night, a corps of Associated Press photographers of a half dozen nationalities is under fire in Chinese and Japanese lines and in flame and shell-scarred Shanghai. The "foreign legion" includes American, British, Russian, Chinese, Japanese and Turkish cameramen.

On two occasions they were bullet-proof vests and crawled into skirmish lines. The field staff sends hundreds of plates daily to the Shanghai bureau office. The developing and printing staff works under high tension to speed pictures to America by every possible means.

At the office, the biggest complaint is lack of ice or really cold water. This has caused much trouble in handling films because of Japanese troops virtually banned foreign photographers from key front line positions, but a Japanese cameraman who came with me from Tokyo works alongside me from Tokyo newspapers. Behind Chinese lines, The Associated Press Chinese wing of the "foreign legion" enjoys cordial relations with the military.

This "foreign legion" apparently has a nose for news pictures. When a Chinese bomb wrecked the Cathay and Palace hotels in Nanking road, Associated Press cameramen were there before the bombs quit falling. One of the staff was coming back from an assignment when the bombs crashed downward.

His shutter was clicking while the dead and dying lay untouched and smoke and debris filled the air. His pictures already are in America. They will reach Europe in a matter of hours.

After the "bloody Saturday" bombing of Frenchtown, The Associated Press "foreign legion" reached the spot as Chinese planes were speeding away.

When a heavy projectile crashed into the department store section, an Associated Press photographer was just a block away. Jarred by the blast, he sprinted to the scene and caught "moment after" shots.

JAPS SLAUGHTERED IN LANDING ATTEMPT

American and British official quarters was that Japanese troop ships brought a total of 35,000 reinforcements to the Yangtze mouth.

Of these 4,000 landed at Paoshan, 6,000 at Liuchow, 2,000 at Woosung and 1,000 at Yangtzeport.

The remaining 42,000 still were aboard ship, waiting until the Japanese command decided it was safe to land.

It was approximately the same number of troops Japan sent to Shanghai for the 1932 warfare but British and American observers said points where Japanese troops have landed this time are too small to serve as bases for a big push.

Japan, it also appeared, has repeated the fatal mistake made by allied forces at Gallipoli in 1915. Showed its Hand

By displaying battleships openly before a landing from the Yangtze, Japan was attempting, the Japanese said, to show the Chinese people that the Chinese people were wrong.

While scores of Japanese ships moved back and forth before expected landing points, Chinese made full preparations for resistance.

With amazing cunning and speed they placed extensive concealed mines. When Japanese troops landed and reached the danger spots the mines were touched off. Landing parties were decimated.

The Chinese resistance took the Japanese completely by surprise. Japanese suffered heavy losses attempting to land troops at Changweihang, a mile upstream from Woosung port.

I saw one Japanese destroyer whose decks were littered with dead and wounded. The wounded were being taken to the Japanese hospital ship, Kawasoo, for return to Japan.

Seven hundred Japanese reinforcements landed without a shot being fired at Changweihang. They deployed and advanced. When they reached what they apparently thought was the Chinese second line, a series of land mines exploded.

Scored Killed
Flames roared and scrap iron shot skyward. Scores of the Japanese landing party were killed. The most serious Shanghai fire, in the Nantao area to the south, threatened to set off the huge multi-toned Kiangnan arsenal and destroy the Chinese and French waterworks which supply 1,000,000 of Shanghai's 2,300,000 people.

The great fires sweeping the southern, eastern and northern sections of the city this afternoon were believed to be taking countless victims. Firemen were making attempts to halt the sweep of the flames because of the serious water shortage.

In Yangtzeport, across Booshow creek in the eastern international settlement, the area near the new factory of the Simmons Mattress Co. was in flames. The footings industrial section across the Whangpoo was burning a half mile below the wharves of the Dollar line.

Other blazes were reducing Hongkew's vast industrial area to ashes, and Chapel, which has a normal population of 1,000,000 Chinese, was burning.

The American authorities tightened control over their section of the international settlement and a citizens' emergency committee sped plans for concentration of Americans as the danger became more acute.

The United States naval supply ship Gold Star, based at Guam, was scheduled to arrive Aug. 27 for possible emergency use.

point on the only road from Santander toward the last government refuge in northern Spain, Oviedo province. Torrelavega lies 11 miles south of Santander, and Barreda 11 miles west.

Piling over the last mountain range between them and their goal, the insurgent column that started northward 11 days ago as the extreme left flank of Franco's offensive reached the outskirts of Torrelavega late last night.

The "Navarros" found the important manufacturing and mining city defensesless and promptly moved in behind three lumbering tanks. The capture of Torrelavega virtually ended the campaign. Franco's commanders said.

Five other columns, now welded into a solid, semi-circular ring moved toward the tottering city from other directions, ready for a final triumphal push through its gates.

What little aviation facilities the defenders had on this front had flown, defense artillery started pulling out days ago and a column of Asturians from Oviedo province who had fought stubbornly to resist the insurgents, escaped over a bridge across the Rio Besaya estuary, just north of Torrelavega, before the attackers snatched the only outlet westward from Santander province.

Franco's communiques said huge stocks of oil were seized in Torrelavega. The Navarre column found the city already decorated with insurgent flags, the high command reported and there was "wild enthusiasm" among the residents.

Marion city and county comes with three youngsters of having children of school age, from 1927 to 1928, this year, according to an enumeration report made by the auditor Harry V. Mounts.

The report, listing 1927 school children in the city and county, was compiled from reports sent in by the board of education clerks in the various school districts. A copy has been sent to E. N. Dietrich, state director of education.

The report shows a decrease of 243 from last year's enumeration figure of 10,348. Of this decrease, the city share is 350, while a decrease of only 23 was shown in the rural districts. The total is made up of 5,124 boys and 4,573 girls.

The city's school-age population is listed at 6,587 this year as against 7,217 last year. In the rural districts, this year's figure is 3,100, as compared to 3,123 last year.

An increase of 43 is shown in the number of handicapped youth between the ages of 1 and 21 years. This year's figure, 163, represents 134 city children and 29 outside the city. Eighteen of these children are unable to take instruction of any kind, while the others are enrolled in some type of schooling.

Feeble-mindedness is the most prevalent type of handicap listed, accounting for 38 of the 163 total. Crippled children are next, numbering 35. Other handicaps are partial blindness, 25; total blindness, one; partial deafness, 29; total deafness, six; speech defects, 25; and epilepsy, six.

The 163 handicapped children fall into the following age groups: From five to 15, 52 boys and 61 girls; 16 to 17, 15 boys and eight girls; 18 to 21, seven boys and six girls.

The total enumeration includes 4,415 boys and 4,183 girls between the ages of five and 15; 678 boys and 675 girls between the ages of 16 and 17.

MANSFIELD FLIER KILLED IN CRASH

By The Associated Press
SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Aug. 23.—Two Randolph field fliers, an instructor and a cadet, were killed yesterday when their plane crashed and burned in a field two and a half miles north of Schertz.

The victims were Second Lieut. Robert C. Wood, of the air reserve, on active duty as an instructor, and flying cadet Frank Flisch whose home is in Mansfield. The plane crashed from an altitude of 500 to 600 feet and burned. Both bodies were nearly consumed by the flames.

RUSSIA'S SIX FLIERS, LOST IN THE ARCTIC

The six men comprising the crew of the giant Russian monoplane N-206 are shown just before they left a Moscow airport on their projected trip to the United States over the North Pole. Shortly after the men passed over the pole their radio signals cut out. They are believed to have been forced down on the Arctic ice. Many Americans, including Jimmy Matern and Sir Hubert Wilkins are pressing a search for them. In the picture left to right are: N. J. Galkowsky, radio operator; N. G. Kastanov, second pilot; Sigmund Levansky, the "Soviet" pilot; and three other crew members.

DEMOCRAT CAUCUSES ARE SET FOR FRIDAY

Three Townships and Village Will Select Slates for Fall Election.

Friday will be a warm political day in at least three townships and one village in Marion county which have set their Democratic caucuses for that day. They are Green Camp, Scott and Clarendon townships and Caladonia village. In Clarendon township the Democrats will meet at the township house, in Caladonia at the council chamber, and in Green Camp and Scott townships at the township houses, according to information received at the board of elections.

The caucuses are scheduled to begin at about 8 o'clock under the direction of the party committee men of the townships.

Richland township held its Democratic caucus Monday night with 112 persons casting votes. The voters were forced to go up and down the roadway near the township house to collect the votes, the house overflowing with Democrats. Their selections, all now filed with the board of elections as nominees are:

Ralph Hensel and Victor Kreis both for four-year terms as township trustees; Wallace Beckel, two-year term as trustee; W. J. Loyer, clerk; W. F. Mack, justice of the peace; and E. L. Klingel constable.

Several scattered nominees from other townships have also filed in both the Republican and Democratic tickets.

"Oh Pshaw."

THE UNITED STATES knows more about the life and habits of African pygmies than about its own unemployed. The half-hearted gesture of appropriating five million dollars to conduct unemployment registration before April 1, next year, can be discussed thoroughly with one disgusted "Oh pshaw." The United States employment service already is registering citizens who want jobs.

This is too thick to understand. Only one fact is clear: President Roosevelt does not think an unemployment census is practical. He has resisted the idea from the beginning, and, according to what he said last week in a press conference, he intends to keep on resisting it.

But the notion persists that the way to discover the facts about unemployment is to count noses. It's a notion that's going to die hard; it can stand a lot of peep-showing—like another old fashioned idea that expenditure and income should be equal to each other.

Go-Devils.

MOTORCYCLE accidents have become a recurrent feature of the nation's serial story of sudden death on the highway.

Automobile drivers may wonder how many of their observations about the way motorcyclists handle their vehicles may be worth noting in connection with the accidents they meet. A few observations:

Motorcyclists travel far more rapidly on their relatively light vehicles than safe automobile drivers care to travel.

Motorcyclists from an auto driver's point of view, take many foolish chances on passing cars and in weaving in and out of traffic.

Many motorcyclists seem to be out for a lark, using their powerful and speedy machines more as amusement devices than as vehicles for getting safely from one place to another. Public highways are poor places these days for dare-devils on go-devils, in view of the fact that a motorcycle is bound to be less than a match for an automobile in any direct encounter.

Ah, Pickles!

CONSIDER the baby cucumber. There he lies, product of man's ingenuity in outwitting nature, which for some reason or other seems reluctant to offer so tempting a morsel to gardeners unless coated and cajoled with fertilizer and lime.

He is no larger than a man's finger and the little bumps on his verdant skin only suggest the adolescence he will never enjoy. Though shrewdly hiding himself under a leaf, he will be found out and snatched from his warm, drowsy environment about this time of year to be carried to an inferno of buckets of water, pungent smells and drowned helplessly without even a struggle to mark his passing.

Sometime later, he and his companions in em-balment will be fished to the surface again and their well soaked aromatic little carcasses laid out on a plate, unless they have had the bad fortune to be sliced to pieces somewhere along the way. In either event, a greedy eyed monster with a poised fork will spy them and shout, "Ah, pickles. Pass 'em up this way, please."

A Little Easier.

"OH BOB, I love you." Thousands of women screaming and shouting. A trans-Atlantic liner delayed half an hour while the decks were cleared of fans. Two of them hating under his bed to have him photograph his picture.

The victim of all this, a nice young man who has become public property because his face and voice happen to be what the doctor ordered for talking pictures—Robert Taylor the Great Lover—realizing adulation's good for business but bad for a man's peace of mind.

Yep, life's a lot easier for millions of just ordinary men now that Robert has gone abroad.
 Sneakingly, deep in their hearts, they hope it will be easier for him, too. Hysterical women are too big a price to pay for it, whatever it is.

The summer's huge crowds are resulting in tremendous activities at the bathing places, thus assuring ample family meals on days when the bridge club meets.

Evidence that even superior erudition has its limitations is apparent in the news that a Harvard president-emeritus has lost his right to drive an automobile because he didn't know how to avoid accidents.

Efforts to plug the holes used by tax evaders doubtless is a commendable undertaking, but to start the populace cheering nothing would be quite so effective as a few barricades against tax spenders.

Talk of new and larger relief appropriations has started, which may be another way of saying that an election is scheduled for next year.

Vacation isn't what it used to be, for it's almost impossible to catch relatives at home long enough for a few days of free meals and lodging.

Bryan Started It

Famous Kansas Editor Traces Progress of "American Revolution"; Says It's Here To Stay

This article is by William Allen White, famous Kansas editor, and it appeared originally in his newspaper, The Emporia Gazette.

WELL, how do you like the revolution in America, so far as it has gone?

Bryan was the first national revolutionary, but he was outside of government. The revolution got into federal legislation nearly 40 years ago, before Theodore Roosevelt came to the White House. It began telling the wide world that America had now produced, or was it, the way of producing, all the wealth that its resources guaranteed, and that what was needed was not a better productive but a better distributive system, so that the wealth of the country could be more equitably distributed. There, in the Roosevelt policies of the first decade of the century, the revolution as a presidential legislative program really began.

It went right along under Taft.
 The Constitution was amended to break the power of what the first Roosevelt called "aggrandized wealth by electing senators, not through the legislature, but by the people, and by establishing an income tax. The postal savings bank was added in Taft's day, rural free delivery, broadening the powers of government; parcel post was established, knocking down the rate of the express companies.
 Under the first Roosevelt and Taft, by legislation and court decision, the railroads were curbed.

When Wilson came to the White House, he established the federal trade commission, which gave the government authority over business, big and little. In those days the last of communism came into being and the interstate commerce commission was strengthened and made a powerful agency for the control of commerce.

Early Farm Aid.
 In the administrations of Harding and Coolidge, farm loans were made by the government and all sorts of new principles established in the relation between the farmer and the government. President Hoover tried farm price fixing and the establishment of a bank of credit called the RFC which, lending money to banks and insurance companies, prevented a financial debacle.
 And then came the second Roosevelt—Murray, Danton, Rosenberg and Prince Charming all rolled into one! He continued the revolutionary extension of federal power which was begun 30 years before he came to the White House.

It is one revolution, bloodless but deeprooted. The American people, through the Republican party in the first decade of the century, through the Democratic party in the second decade, through the Republican progressives again in the third decade and through the Democratic party in the last five years, have been slowly but inexorably moving toward a new attitude of the government and the citizen. It is a modification of the capitalist system.

Yet it is not communism. It is not fascism. It is democratic in its ideals. Fundamentally, the revolution attempts to set up a new distributive system, to readjust the common income of the people so that there may be a basic living standard below which no man may fall who is willing to work.

Today in Washington

Danger Lies Ahead in Rough Treatment of Minorities by Majority Groups.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Shall the minority groups in America be protected or should they be overridden rough-shod by the arbitrary will of an unchecked majority?

This question, out of which has come bloodshed and civil war in many countries of the world, now has been projected for debate by the Roosevelt administration through its spokesman, Senator Guffey of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Roosevelt himself, in his North Carolina speech, made a vague reference to his interest in "majority rule," but it remained for the Pennsylvania senator to outline the conception of power which he and his associates in the new deal think is vested in "the majority."

Because Mr. Guffey's speech dealt with the activities of three Democratic senators in differing with the administration on the court packing bill, the fact that the same address contained a definition of the way the administration interprets "majority rule" was quite generally overlooked.

Mr. Guffey first quoted from a speech by Chief Justice Hughes, made last June before the American College alumni, in which he said:

"The ruthlessness of a temporary majority, if unchecked, will eventually lead to the entire overthrow of democratic institutions."

The Pennsylvania senator proceeded not to understand what was meant by a "temporary majority" and seemed to think Mr. Hughes was referring to the 1935 majority as "temporary." What Mr. Guffey doesn't know, of course, is that the phrase "temporary majority" has been used for centuries by Englishmen, as students of democracy know, and that it means "changing majorities." This phrase is used to draw a distinction between the acts of a legislative body resulting from one or more elections and the fundamental character of rich's control in a written constitution like ours.

general welfare clause of the Constitution is beginning to function.
 Trimming Closer.

The government is supposed, under the new president, to take care of the hazards of old age and ill health and unemployment, to subsidize the farmer, directly or indirectly, so that he will be able to sell the things he grows on a parity with the things he buys.
 Government is trimming closer and closer the claws and filling the teeth of predatory capitalism, but is not even remotely trying to abandon the capitalist system.

We are trying to establish economic democracy and economic freedom without changing the status of the citizen toward his government. Under a democratic government, the citizen is master of the state. Under the new system of tyranny set up in Europe by the communists and fascists, the state is master of the citizen.

A tough job, this—to endow the state with the tremendous power needed to master our constantly broadening corporate life, while at the same time keeping inviolate the ancient liberties of the individual.

Russia has failed. Germany and Japan followed Italy in the road to failure. They could not control, regulate and circumscribe the activities of the high-grade talent that gives direction to vast industrial enterprises at the same time putting killing passions on the freedom of men whose work must be somewhat strictly directed and channeled if large scale industrial life, nationally organized, survives.

We are facing one of the major challenges humanity has met on this planet—the clash between man's spiritual freedom and his economic necessity.

America is trying in its evolutionary revolution the dangerous experiment of bringing many functions of life, which once were exercised by the citizen as a member of a corporation, out of private control into public control. At the same time, the American citizen hopes to retain his hold upon government, which controls capital, so that the government is not master of the citizen. It's a comical tight rope performance!

Here To Stay.
 This is our new American revolution. Roosevelt is but a passing figure. Whatever happens to him is unimportant. The revolution will go on. Taft could not stem it. Harding did not try seriously.
 Coolidge sat around and watched the White Street boom, not knowing what it was all about. Hoover lent a hand and probably gave it as large a boost as Roosevelt by first putting the government into the loan business in a big way.

Back of it all, back of the first Roosevelt, back of Taft, Wilson, Harding, Coolidge, Hoover, Rosevelt, is the quenchless desire of the American people to live equitably with one another to see that no man is oppressed that every man has his rights and enjoys his freedom, economic as well as political, and that the fruits of our common labor shall be fairly, though, of course, not equally, divided among all the people.

That is the spirit of the new revolution. It is here to stay. Take it or leave it. It is part of the new order of the world. World-man's quenchless hunger and thirst for righteousness! The quest for justice is the mainspring of all human progress.

which requires two-thirds of both houses of congress—and not a simple majority—as well as three-fourths of the states, and again not a simple majority, to change the basic supreme law of the land.

Purpose of Checks

The purpose of the checks and balances inaugurated by the founding fathers was to protect minorities against "ruthless majorities." Otherwise, overnight, a congress could be elected, or a majority could be obtained, to enact laws that would be a threat to the rights of the "ruthlessness" of legislative majorities has been a supreme court, which, by its decisions, upheld the bill of rights in our federal Constitution. When Lord Mansfield said to his American correspondent in 1837: "Your Constitution is all well and no anchor," he had in mind the possible excesses of a ruthless majority who would some day brush aside in a tidal wave of mistaken zeal the Constitution itself. Americans have for generations taken lightly Lord Mansfield's prophecy because they felt the American Constitution has had a real anchor —the supreme court.

Today, a United States senator, speaking on behalf of the President of the United States, attacks the integrity of the supreme court and proposes that senators who defended the court be punished at the polls. Indeed, Mr. Guffey goes a step further and contends that the right of a majority in congress to be ruthless and ride roughshod over minority rights shall be placed before the "electorate." He says:

"Chief Justice Hughes has stated the entrance of the issue for tomorrow. For one, I accept that issue."

What Mr. Guffey who has been chairman of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee, is saying, in effect, is that the administration with its enormous power to develop an artificial majority through the political use of public funds recklessly, as it did in Pennsylvania.

TEN YEARS AGO.

It was Thursday, Aug. 23, 1923.
 Paul Redfern, 25-year-old Georgia air pilot, hopped off from Brunswick Ga., in his monoplane, "Port of Brunswick" on what was intended to be a non-stop flight to Brazil, but which was destined to end in his disappearance and to become one of the strangest mysteries of modern aviation.
 Even to this day the hunt for Red fern continues, with reports that he is now in the jungles of Brazil, living with savages. His wife, who was present at his takeoff, recently announced her intention of going to South America to hunt for him.

Mrs. E. F. Davis, 29, of Crestline, former resident of Marion, died in Emergency hospital at Crestline following an operation.
 A son was born to Mr. and Mrs.
 F. D. Fetter of Moral.

Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Neidhart and son John of South State street returned from a trip to Niagara Falls and Rochester, N. Y., and London, Canada.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

It was Saturday, Aug. 23, 1913.
 Monte Santo, powerful Austro-Hungarian fortress seven miles north of Gorizia, was captured by the Italians.

With war expenses of the United States averaging $24,000,000 daily, Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo revised his views on plans for the second Liberty loan, placing a higher estimate than originally made.

Only 15 sicklers were found among 395 Marion county men notified to appear before the Marion county draft board to be examined for war service, the board reported in announcing the list for publication. The 15 names were also sent to Judge Advocate Tun-nely at Columbus so that he could search for the 15.

Russell Harmon, widely known Marion traveling salesman, died in the Marion General hospital following a brief illness brought on by a stroke of apoplexy.

In New York

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—The lowest among the "showoff" led to the G.
 Gummer. The "showoff" young thing was and trying to attract attention—several pictures of her—have become addressed Garbo's wife of windowing publicity by appearing to avoid it.

On their trip to Bermuda, week-end cruiser motor jaunts and even sailing to Europe, make themselves conspicuous by way of dark glasses. Thus, the single lady saves out for trying to appear mysterious.
 These are the dizzy demosts who go to every new-fangled fallaroo—such as imitative draggy Hope Williams talk, exclaiming the stormy walk, ying tulle around the head, feather, dirty hair-dos and wrist kerchiefs down to the And strange, enough they do excite car-

The effort to make the susceptible believe celebs is hiding behind the camouflage. Of course many of these dices are innocently shameless just a girlish pique. On the other hand, it has become the duty of some of the brass consider ladies sick in the act of blackmail.

One of the most enchanting firm names in New York is Black, Starr and Frost. A swell name for jewelry, suggesting a crystal clear cut Hammerman and Schlemmer somehow remembered of an old Hoyt face and you rather expect a clerk to pop out and swear you with a black-Then there's Jay Thorpe, so called like a suddenly exploding champagne cork. The name Grand Concorde is an auto tire shop bearing the name O. Spidell, which recalls the war, as of my uncles used to let go a spray of ambulance at the gas burner in the general store pack home. And there are few names so well to me as that of the benign and venerable drug firm on 18th street called Elmer and Amend.

Young Eddie Duchin, bewildered and starry-eyed by the tragic picture of his socialist wife, Miss Joyce, followed the birth of a son, his father on a melancholia that is the worry of friends.
 Away from work he sits for hour after hour at a window, folding and unfolding a handkerchief in the manner of Theodore Dreiser. Their marriage was a true love match. Night after night as well as at tea dances for which her husband played his wife sat at an obscure table, listening and snatching a few moments with him when he came to her between tunes. For years she had been a social favorite, here and there, but Duchin did not care for society and was interested only in his music. She willingly gave it all up and was happy in the seclusion.
 In the brief period of their marriage, too, she had done much to promote her talented husband.
 Everyone commented on the polish and culture as seemed suddenly to acquire. From a rather gawky, gangly and loose-wristed boy from the tall grass, he took on a sartorial gloss, handling evening clothes and a top hat somewhat in the manner of Richard Harding Davis.
 Four years he progressed from a $100-a-week piano player to the leader of his own orchestra and with his radio and stage engagements has an income in excess of $200,000 a year.

Too, I saw Henrietta Crossman, another Theatre favorite of my Dad, jumping around as lively as a cricket in a film not long ago. Before I donned long trousers she had long since passed the ingenue stage and was portraying matronly roles. She looked only slightly older than 30 years ago and, as certainly as actors There must be some magic about refusing to admit one's age. I have never been able to discover an actor who will confess to more than 39. And it is proverbial that no actress ever reaches 40. Save, of course, Missingstout of the French Music Hall who boasts of her some 60 years, her youthful figure and her shapely legs or whatever they are this season. I'm not a big number who doesn't keep up with such things.

Britain's Warning

By KINGSBURY SMITH

International News Service Correspondent.

LONDON—A warning that Great Britain would immediately seize the coastline of Spanish Morocco and the Spanish mainland facing Gibratar if Spain should become involved in a war with the British Empire has been issued by Herbert Morrison, parliamentary private secretary to the first lord of the admiralty.

Commenting on reports that Gibraltar was menaced by German guns mounted along the coastline of Franco Spain, Morrison said that in the event of war it would be necessary not only to destroy any such gun emplacements but to occupy the territory in order to safeguard Britain's Mediterranean route.

Occupation Necessary.
 "I am convinced that, in the event of a long war, we should have to seize and occupy a strip of territory on either side of the Straits," he said.
 "No hostile power could thus bring up new long-range guns and we should be able to establish air bases on the mainland. So long as we control the sea, we need have no fears for Gibraltar.
 The sea, as always, is our mainstay, and while we are its unquestioned masters any nation however powerful or well placed, would be foolish to challenge us."

Action which would be resorted to by the British navy to safeguard the passage of British ships through the Straits in time of war was described by Morrison as follows:

"Let us imagine the worst, and say that Spain on a sudden declaration of war, has joined an alliance of powerful nations against us. A large convoy of oil tankers is about to pass through the Straits and the commander-in-chief in the Mediterranean has to ensure their safety.

"His three chief obstacles will probably be the from shore batteries, attacks from torpedoed aeroplanes and submarines.

"The heavy guns of Gibraltar quickly send the opposing batteries; aeroplanes launched from aircraft carriers complete their destruction; the same time waiting for hostile aeroplanes, a cruiser specially equipped with anti-aircraft and accompanies the convoy and opens up a cold fire against low-flying raiders. In the meantime destroyers equipped with depth charges and for submarines.

"But we must remember that a future war probably last two to three years and during that time, an admiral must bring through many convoys. It is not enough to silence the coastal guns. The territory must be occupied to prevent new ones being mounted."
